

The heatmap displays a 13x13 matrix of similarity scores. The diagonal is entirely bright yellow, representing a similarity of 1.0 for all self-comparisons. The off-diagonal elements show a range of similarity values, with colors transitioning from orange to dark purple. The matrix is symmetric, as evidenced by the mirror-like pattern across the main diagonal. The overall pattern suggests a complex set of relationships between the 13 entities being compared.

Communication
 Criminology
 Demography
 Ethnology
 Gender studies
 Law and economics
 Media studies
 Pedagogy
 Political economy
 Regional science
 Social science
 Socioeconomics